Art Unit: 1761

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1, 4, 5, 10, and 12-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Schroeder et al (WO 00/36924) for the reasons set forth in rejecting the claims in the last Office action. The amendments to the claims are not seen to influence the conclusion of unpatentability previously set forth.

Schroeder et al teach neotame in combination with a food acceptable solvent such as ethanol, propylene glycol, and vegetable oils (see entire document, especially page 36, lines 11-23 and Example 3, 4, 7, and 9). Schroeder et al also teach additional components to provide neotame protection including for example hydrocolloids, proteins (i.e. zein), starches, and gums and also teach traditional methods of forming admixtures such as spray chilling (see page 32, lines 1-25). Schroeder et al clearly teach water and alcohol as the carrier (see Example 4). Schroeder et al also teach 0.5-20% by weight neotame in the encapsulated or admixed composition (see page 32, lines 12-15 and Example 4).

Applicant's temperature range encompasses both chilled temperatures and room temperature. It is noted that the conventional methods of mixing taught by Schoeder et al inherently include all temperature ranges.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1761

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over

Schroeder et al.

Schroeder et al is cited as above.

The claims differ as to the recitation of 30% by weight.

Schroeder et al disclose that the amount of neotame can be readily formulated to provide a desired sweetness level (see for example page 24, lines 6 and 7).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use 30% by weight neotame in that of Schroeder et al because the manipulation of the amount of neotame is well within the skill of the art. Certainly a more intense sweetener would contain a higher percent of neotame.

Applicant's arguments filed February 23, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
